Bio

Impulsive Drive, or by his real name Mark Martinez, is an up and coming trance producer from Germany. Producing since 2003. his style has developed from pumpy electro house, to uplifting, energetic and progressive trance.

Lately, focusing more and more on the trance genre, his tracks are defined by straight forward aggressive beats, dynamic bass-lines, and beautiful complex melodies and harmonics. So far he did a remix for the german record label "Fenology Records" of a track called "Scirocco" by Alex M.O.R.P.H, that was very well recieved within the trance-scene in the year 2004, as well as a remix for the well established trance label "Euphonic", of a track called "Back To Love" by Stormchaser.

One of his recent production is "Reload" , a massive and energetic trancer that recieved support by Armin Van Buuren, Alex M.O.R.P.H, Woody Van Eyden, Akira Kyosa, Firestorm and Robert Gitelman to name a few.

New tracks are planed for the very near future so be sure to check back for updates.
